

WINE STYLES OF ITALY

Italy is arguably the world's largest wine producer. Wine is made in every region of the country and in a bewildering range of styles. Much wine is made for local consumption and is sold in bulk. This wine not reflected in statistics. Some wines have been exported in high volumes and sold cheaply – such as the pink light frothy Red Lambrusco.

Unfortunately many consumers only know these wines from Italy or perhaps rustic rough local reds. The world of fine wine in Italy is extensive. Fine reds from Piemonte (Barolo and Barbera). Elegant White Wines made from Pinot Grigio, Vermentino, Trebbiano, Grillo and Fiano. From Tuscany (Chianti, Brunello and Montepulciano) and popular styles (called “Super Tuscans”) have been joined by a new generation of traditional styled Ripasso reds from the Veneto, made in a modern way.

Paula is a Wine Educator and Director of All About Wine. She has travelled extensively through Italy including participating in Italy's annual Wine Event 'Vin Italy', which is held in Verona in April. 30,000 people from all over the world attend the event to buy, learn and discover more about Italian Wines. Paula has taken Australian's to Italy, staying at Winery properties from Rome to Florence. The class promises to be an extremely enjoyable and educational evening, with 16 wines, lots of comparisons to make, debate and social interaction. Do join us.
